TICA’s current membership of 76 includes 49 gas turbine users. The TICA membership benefits for gas turbine users and the list of current gas turbine user members are available on the TICA website at <http://www.turbineinletcooling.org/gtusers.html>. The benefits for gas users include the following:

- Online Users’ Forum (<http://turbineinletcooling.org/members/forum/>)
- Full version of the TIC Performance Calculator (<http://turbineinletcooling.org/coolingcalculator.html>)
- Full version of the TIC Installation Database (<http://turbineinletcooling.org/database.html>)
- Access to experts for all TIC technologies (http://turbineinletcooling.org/buyer/profile\_main.html)
- Opportunities to impact TICA activities to reflect the needs of gas turbine users.

The TICA membership form is also available online at http://www.turbineinletcooling.org/about/onlinemember\_form.php5.

TICA invites gas turbine users and operators, and others interested in gas turbine cooling, to follow the TICA group on LinkedIn (<https://www.linkedin.com/company/15362452/admin/>) and start discussions to get answers to your questions about turbine inlet cooling.
